Creating a Sensual Lifestyle

Pillowbook Sensual Lifestyle Group
For Women Living with a Diagnosis of Cancer

Cancer changes your life. Life includes your intimacy, your sexuality. Sexuality and cancer facts:

- ⌘ Cancer, treatment and maintenance therapies affect your sexuality*
- ⌘ Commonly a negative relationship with your body develops*
- ⌘ Low self image gets in the way of your intimate loving*
- ⌘ Painful sex, loss of arousal and a low desire for intimacy is a result of cancer*
- ⌘ Often times sexual dysfunction and intimacy problems were present before the diagnosis of cancer.*
- ⌘ Sexuality and intimacy deserve special attention in women diagnosed with cancer*

Do you want to explore getting back your sexuality after cancer?

Dr. Marlene Wasserman, Clinical Sexologist and Linda Greeff, Human Resources Manager and Oncology Social Worker, invite you to
